James A. Loeffler, CPA, CFE, Receives ASQ-Certified Six Sigma Black Belt

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Milwaukee WI, May 14, 2008 – The Certification Board of the American Society for Quality is pleased to announce that James A. Loeffler has completed the requirements to be named an ASQ-Certified Six Sigma Black Belt (ASQ CSSBB). As such, Mr. Loeffler has reached a significant level of professional recognition, indicating a proficiency in and a comprehension of Six Sigma principles and practices.

“ASQ provides certification as a way to provide formal recognition to professionals who have demonstrated an understanding of, and a commitment to, quality techniques and practices in their job and career,” explains Mike Nichols, President, ASQ. “This is a great accomplishment and, although not a formal registration or licensure, it represents a high level of peer recognition.”

A Certified Six Sigma Black Belt is a professional who applies Six Sigma philosophies and principles, including supporting systems and tools in a variety of capacities. A Black Belt demonstrates leadership and manages team dynamics throughout the DMAIC model (define, measure, analyze, improve, control), understands lean enterprise concepts and uses tools to identify non-value-added activities. To learn more about ASQ’s Certified Six Sigma Black Belt program, visit www.asq.org/certification/six-sigma.

As both a CPA and a CFE, Mr. Loeffler, Co-Founder of InTune Business Advisors LLC, has led successful process improvement initiatives, and is pleased to have earned this certification as a further demonstration of the Firm’s breadth and depth of knowledge across its core services.
